

- *December Graduation Reception
- *Boeing Internship Opportunities Summer 2008
- * NASA on YouTube
- *New Aeronautics Competition with NASA
- *AIST Scholarships and Grants

December Graduation Reception

Friday, December 14, 6-9:00 pm, Alice Campbell Alumni Center, 601 S. Lincoln Ave., Urbana

The University of Illinois Alumni Association invites you and your family to celebrate your graduation with us. Enjoy an evening of live entertainment and hors d'oeuvres as we commemorate your experience as a University of Illinois student.

All December graduates and their families are invited.

For more information, contact Danielle Wilberg at 217/333-9829 or dwilberg@uiuc.edu.

Boeing Internship Opportunities Summer 2008

Deadline: February 25, 2008

Boeing Commercial Airplanes has internship opportunities for 2008 summer employment in Everett and Renton, WA for select qualified graduate and undergrad students. This is a great opportunity to get some real industry experience. This internship is in Product Development on the 787 as an airplane configuration Associate Technical Fellow and the requisition # listed below is only for this discipline (Configuration and Engineering Analysis). There are other opportunities in other disciplines as well.

If you have a passion for aircraft design, please submit an application. If you make the first cut you could get a phone interview. These positions are very competitive and the ideal candidates have already completed their Aircraft Design project/class.

Go to www.boeing.com

Click on Employment

Click on Job Search

Click on "Job Req #"

Enter 07-1028024

Follow the instructions after that.

Another option is to check "Intern" under "Experience Level". This will provide opportunities in other disciplines and areas, including St. Louis.

NASA on YouTube

As a way to reach new audiences and take part in the conversation taking place on NASA, our missions and future, we've planted a flag on one of the fastest-growing, popular social media sites. Video tells a vivid story, so what better way to tell NASA's story than by rolling our cameras. Visit ReelNASA on YouTube to see what's on the reels at NASA.

Follow STS-122 through its training, days leading up to and during the mission via behind-the-scenes videos on NASA's YouTube channel.

A new playlist, "The Voyage of Columbus," has been added to ReelNASA, where you can find these videos, crew wake-up calls and other clips related to this mission:

www.youtube.com/reelnasa

New Aeronautics Competition

Due Dates: Notice of intent January 19, 2008, final entry is due April 30, 2008

A new aeronautics competition encourages high school and college students to share their ideas of future aircraft with NASA for a chance to receive trophies, student internship offers and cash prizes. The competition challenges students to write about the next generation of aircraft, what they would look like and how they would operate.

Winning entries may be invited to a student forum sponsored by NASA and/or industry, receive offers of student internships, and receive other prizes, including up to $5,000 cash, depending on available funds. To learn more about the competition, visit:

<http://aero.larc.nasa.gov/competitions.htm>

AIST Scholarships and Grants

Deadline: March 2, 2008

AIST will award over $400,000 in scholarships and grants for the 2008-2009 academic year. Visit the Association for Iron and Steel Technology (AIST) Foundation website for more information and applications at www.aistfoundation.org.

Register at http://eoh.ec.uiuc.edu/registration_exhibits.php

AE homepage: <http://www.ae.uiuc.edu/>.

Undergrad program: <http://www.ae.uiuc.edu/academics/undergrad/>

Opportunities: <http://www.ae.uiuc.edu/opportunities/>

Previous FLYERS: <http://www.ae.uiuc.edu/news/flyer/>

Visit the Engineering Update web site <http://www.engr.uiuc.edu/communications/eupdate/> for College of Engineering news.